ALMA MATER

Mariners true,
White and the blue,
Honor and glory always for you.
And we shall know
Where'er we go
THY LIGHT SHALL BE A BEACON TO SEE.
All hail to Thee,
Our dear Alma Mater
Our love for Thee will go on forever.
Loyal we'll be
To each memory
This is our pledge, for we cherish Thee.

Dedication . . . a leader,

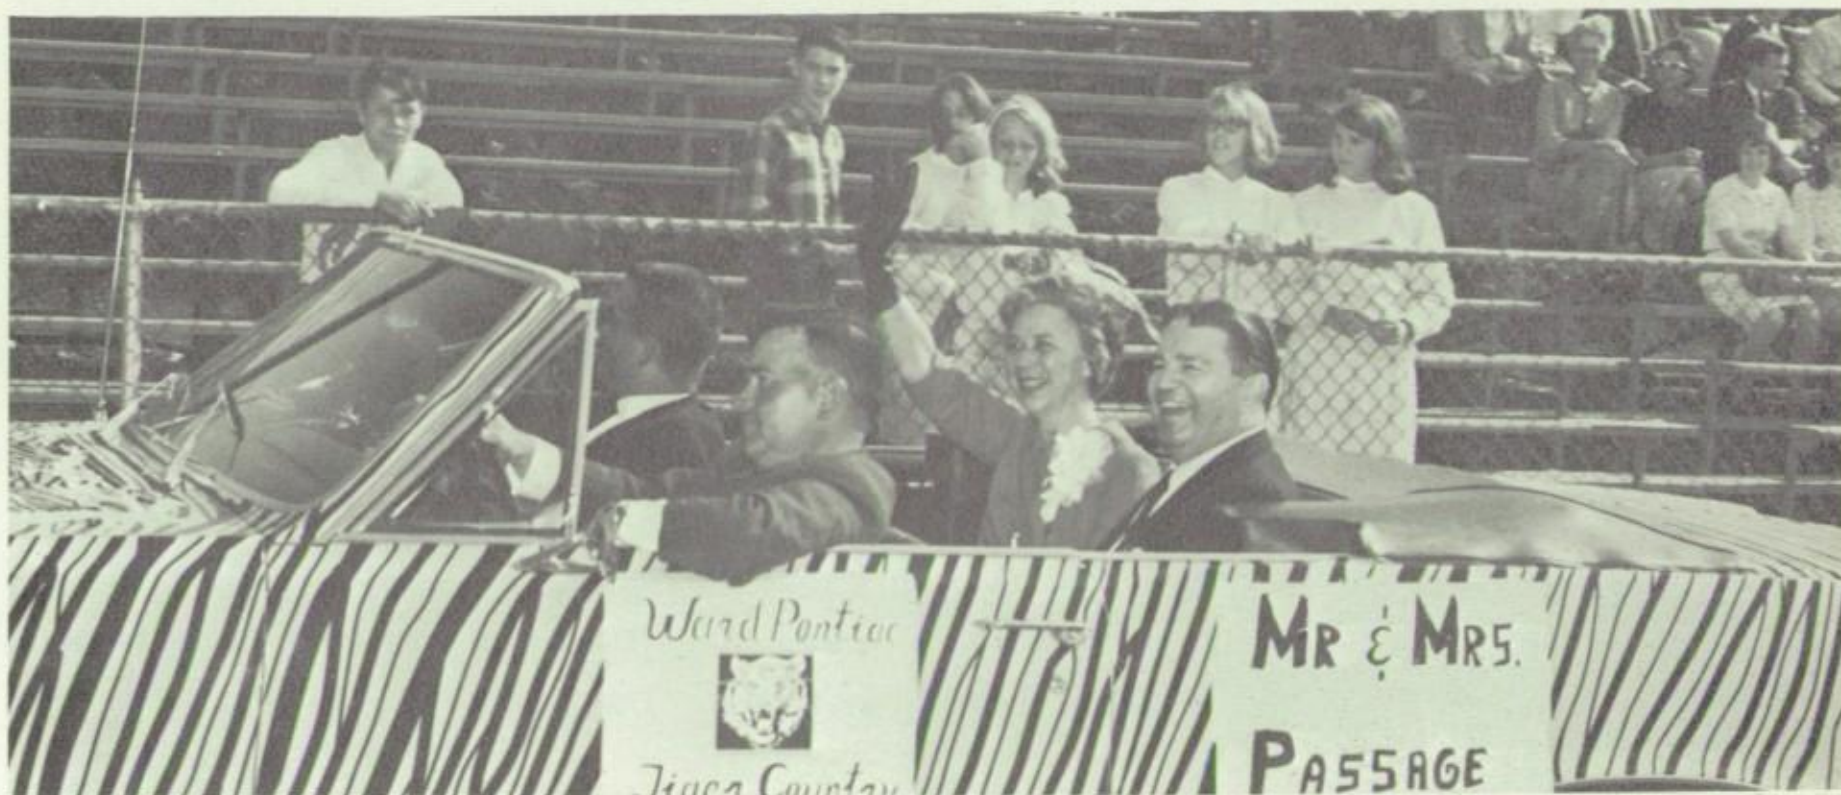

Mrs. Mary L. Passage

During her many years at Ferguson High School, Mrs. Mary L. Passage has earned the respect and admiration of every Mariner. Her service to the school has included teaching English for two years, holding the position of assistant principal for five years, and acting as advisor for the Student Co-operative Association for four years.

This year Mrs. Passage has served as our principal. In spite of the numerous duties that this position requires, she always finds time to attend and to give her support to all school activities. She personally congratulates students who have brought honor to Ferguson by winning recognition in the fields of academics and sports.

The 1966 MARINER is dedicated to Mrs. Passage by a student body that is thankful for her leadership and for her continuous devotion to Ferguson High School.

Thy light shall

The light of a beacon represents the guidance and the hope for a lone vessel. If it functions adequately, it illuminates safety; but, if it possesses the slightest flaw, it endangers the vessel's present and future course.

As we, participants in the memorable year, 1965-'66, turn the pages of this 1966 MARINER, we see that Ferguson's guiding light strives to steer its student body in a profitable course. The union of the administration and faculty in the academic and social environment of our school creates a brilliant light which beckons the students to follow the difficult path of the future. The students, greatly influenced by this illumination of spirit and knowledge, also band together to actualize the responsibilities and standards set for them in the classroom, in athletic competition, in extracurricular activities, and in the home. Together, the student body and the administration and faculty are strengthened; divided--they fail. Look into this volume of school life, and experience again and again the success which is FERGUSON'S.

ACADEMICS is

Due to the combined cooperation of faculty, administration and student body, Ferguson has acquired high academic standards. The administration and faculty are responsible for guiding the students toward their prospective goals. We, the students, are grateful to these people for their dedication to us throughout our years at Ferguson.

The members of the faculty are graduates of many colleges throughout the nation. They have earned various degrees in numerous fields which qualify them as able instructors. Serving as advisors, many teachers contribute much of their time to academic and service clubs. Many teachers express their loyalty to the school by participating in such events as Stunt Night and the Faculty-WGH Microphonie Basketball Game.

Most important to the efficient maintenance of our school are the devoted administrators. Their capable leadership and service are necessary to maintain order and carry out the school functions. Their advice, guidance, and cooperation will always be remembered.

The Ferguson graduate is well prepared either to begin his career or to further his education. From the eighth grade the student is offered various electives along with required courses. A student has the opportunity to excel in any subject he desires. Advanced courses include modern European history, advanced composition, world literature, Senior math analysis and genetics. Various clubs allow the student to further his interests in many subjects. Ferguson is fortunate to have the academic program prepared and presented by a dedicated faculty and administration.

the foundation for learning.

Our dedicated principals

In taking this record of your 1965-66 school year home for inspection, you will find that it will recall different events, a variety of friends, some accomplishments as you read it in the years to come.

You Seniors will leaf through it to polish the memory of months that stretch back to that time in your life when you never thought you would have a Senior picture in this annual. You will be able to reconstruct a ball game from some of the pictures; you will, in the years ahead, wonder what ever happened to this friend or that buddy. But Ferguson High will never be the same to any one of you.

Doors open, and you step through, but you do not go back, unless in memory you learn anew from the past so that you can make mature judgments about your future.

For some of you, this book is the final record of your last formal education. But I would say that there are other books, and your education should not stop so long as there is a book to be opened. For all of you, I should say that in the coming two years, you will know more about what there is to know than at any other time in your lives.

To those of you who go on, this is but a record of my heartfelt wishes for fulfillment of your prayers and your dreams. For those of you who will find jobs, let me wish that you're always thinking and wishing for something a bit more, a bit better, for this is the stuff of which ambition is made.

To those of you who remain at Ferguson, let me say that you Seniors have wrought a firm and proud tradition in these early years of Ferguson's history as a high school, and we shall build carefully and well upon those foundations.

The assistant principals strived to coordinate all the various functions of school life. They aided our principal, Mrs. Passage, in the fulfillment of her numerous duties. In addition to making the necessary announcements and supervising the clubs, they handled all the major disciplinary problems. Teachers always found them willing to give assistance whenever it was needed.

Both Mr. Thompson and Mr. Underwood were essential to the successful operation of Ferguson High School.

Team teaching was introduced to the science classes this year. Students were able to obtain more individual help and greater knowledge from two instructors.

SENIORS

The year was 1961, when a group of excited eighth graders reached the corridors of the newly christened Homer L. Ferguson High School. They were members of the class of 1966; the first class to complete five entire years at Ferguson.

The eighth grade was a new beginning. It was hard to survive those highly sophisticated courses in mathematics, English, and geography. During this year the new building was constructed and our class president, Travis Taylor, steered us through the new year of obstacles.

The ninth grade delivered to us new hopes and new friends. Richard Wyatt led us onward through a year of money-raising activities. We continued working toward our sophomore year by writing the school's new Alma Mater.

During our sophomore year we again lost the powder-puff basketball game, but we managed to produce a very successful recreation night.

Then came our junior year, the year of the prom that we presented to the class of 1965. To raise money for the prom we sponsored bake sales, another recreation night, a license plate sale, and a powder-puff football game, which we won. When the day came to order class rings we could see how fast the time had flown.

At last the September of our senior year arrived. When we finally received our rings, we were so proud to show them off. The senior float won first place in the Homecoming parade. To create and encourage school spirit, we formed the kazoo band. Meade Mitchell, as class president, led us through our final year at Ferguson.

We began to think toward our final class projects: electing senior personalities, getting ready for the banquet, the prom, the senior day, and the achievement of our long and unforgettable goal--graduation. The end arrived quickly. The five years of our high school career were gone forever, leaving only memories of the past and the foundation and stepping stones to a new and greater tomorrow.

If time should ever find us, you and I,
In sudden meeting somewhere far away
From Ferguson, may we recall today
And pause to smile, to speak as we pass by.

If ever we should gather here once more
T'would make me glad to see, as others roam,
The Class of Sixty-Six returning home
To meet again just once past today, or

If one day you should hear that I have died,
Think kindly on the days that we once knew;
Remember me as I'll remember you;
As one who graduated by your side.

The hearts that can remember often melt,
In whispers of farewell forever felt.

IN MEMORIAM

MACON MONROE JUERGENS

"Let There Be Peace on Earth"

Let there be peace on Earth, and let it begin with me.

Let there be peace on Earth, the peace that was meant to be.

With God as our Father, brothers all are we;

Let me walk with my brother, in perfect harmony.

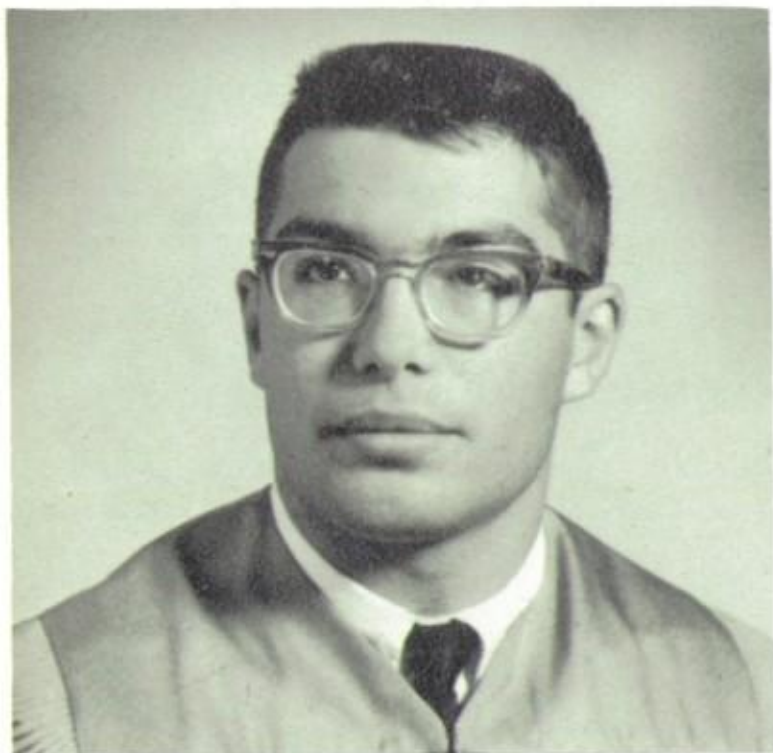

Let peace begin with me, let this be the moment now.

With every step I take, let this be my solemn vow:

To take each moment and live each moment in peace, eternally.

Let there be peace on earth, and let it begin with me.

Great admiration for our outstanding

JAMES GARY BATTERSON

Jimmy represents versatility by his achievements in scholastic, athletic, and musical fields. Well known are Jimmy's honors received in the All Virginia Band, All State Band, and the Regional Band, as well as in Ferguson's Senior Band. Membership in the Science Club, JETS, and the Math Club indicate Jimmy's scientific inclinations; and his membership in the National Honor Society and the Key Club demonstrate his qualities of leadership and service.

MARY FULLER BECKER

A superior student in every respect, Mary did not concentrate all efforts on earning the honor of Salutatorian of the Class of 1966. She cheerfully devoted much of her time to the SCA, Class Committees, AFS, the Honorary French Society, National Honor Society, GRA, and the Great Books Club. In the summer after her junior year, Mary was one of Ferguson's representatives to Girls' State.

P. 50, 139 TS

SARAH JANE DEAZLEY

Through her outgoing personality and keen interest in student government, Sally contributed much to the student body of Ferguson. Sally was active in the SCA, as a representative and as a Federation Delegate. Other interests of Sally were the National Honor Society, AFS, the Latin Club, and the Great Books Club.

Seniors was held by all.

EDWARD CHARLES POLHAMUS, JR.

Ed was characterized by his numerous and diverse activities. The range of Ed's high school activities extends from basketball to public speaking. His greatest achievements were in academic and musical pursuits. Determined to maintain an A average throughout high school, Ed well deserved the honor of Valedictorian of the Class of 1966. Organizations in which he has been active include the National Honor Society, the Honorary German Society, the Latin Club, Forensics, the Senior Band, All State Band, Regional Band, and the Key Club. Ed brought further honor upon Ferguson by being a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Competition.

MARY CAROL SMOLA

Mary's friendly personality and serious ambition were recognized through her efforts in the SCA, AFS, National Honor Society, Quill & Scroll, and Class Committees. The Future Teachers of America organization consumed much of Mary's time: in her senior year, Mary was President of the Peninsula Federation of the Future Teachers of America, as well as President of Ferguson's chapter. Much hard work and determination were also required of Mary in her position as Editor of the MARINER.

EDWARD SEARS YATES

A truly representative student, Chip took his place in student government through the Class Council, the SCA, and Boys' State. Chip was also an active member of the Key Club and the History Club, and President of the National Honor Society. His wit and talent for entertaining were recognized by all. The title of "Wittiest" was indeed appropriately bestowed upon him.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Underclassmen comprised the bulk of Ferguson's students. Their enthusiastic participation in school activities heightened the spirit of the entire student body.

The eighth graders were initiated into the traditions at Ferguson by the presentation of their talents at the annual Mouse Assembly. Their school-wide Christmas fund demonstrated not only their school spirit, but also their concern for others.

The Freshman and Sophomore classes clashed in an exciting Powder-puff basketball game won by the Sophomores. Sophomores entered a float in the Homecoming parade and held a coat check at the dance that night.

The main activities of the Junior Class were centered around money-making projects to furnish funds for the Senior prom. These funds were obtained through the presentation of a hootenanny and the sale of STUDENT DIRECTORIES.

Each class at Ferguson enjoyed an eventful year. By sponsoring projects, the classes increased their treasuries and developed new friendships. These friendships were furthered by educational experiences in the classroom. This year will be remembered as a year of spirit and enthusiasm in the hearts of all F. H. S. students.

The social climaxes of a year at Ferguson are featured in this section. Productions such as the band and choral concerts, "Fiorello", the Homecoming parade, and Miss Mariner drew not only the attention of the students at Ferguson but also the interest of the entire community.

The success of these activities conveyed the ability and great enthusiasm of every Mariner involved.

Homecoming Festivities

The viewing stand provided an excellent view of the game for the princesses and their escorts.

On October 16, 1965, Ferguson held its second annual homecoming parade. First prize was awarded to the Senior float with its theme "Best in Dixie."

Half-time was climaxed by the crowning of Miss Travis Kilmer Taylor as 1965 Homecoming Queen.

The queen and her court were honored at a homecoming dance that night.

All homecoming activities were planned by the S.C.A. Social Committee, headed by Cindy Rowe with the assistance of Ricky Richardson, Susan Tribble, and Miss Sylvia Olney.

Our Queen, Travis Taylor, was crowned by Mr. George J. McIntosh, Superintendent of Newport News Schools.

The homecoming court and their escorts were honored at the dance.

The earnest work of the annual staff was rewarded by the success of its second annual Miss Mariner Pageant. Twenty-six girls participated in the three-phase contest which was hosted by Tiny Hutton. Climaxing the crowning of Miss Mariner was the presentation of the Miss Mariner theme song, written by Mr. Tony Auby. This song will become an honored tradition at the pageant each year.

Appreciation also goes to Mr. Hughes, Mr. Webb and the Dance Band, the teachers who helped with rehearsals, and especially the annual staff sponsor, Mrs. Elder.

Fiorello—Top

"What a situation," Susie sang, "I love a cop!"

The stage band, under the direction of Mr. Webb, worked diligently on the music for "Fiorello."

Jane Moneyhun and David Roach sang "Marie's Law."

"Fiorello" was the story of the budding political career of a young New York lawyer named Fiorello H. La Guardia. The play was set during the period of civic corruption and change in government in the 1940's. Fiorello combated these political evils and worked to clean up the corrupt policies of New York government.

The principal characters were Ron St. Germain-Fiorello; Jane Moneyhun-Marie; Betty Perry-Dora; Bill Taylor-Floyd; David Crosby-Ben Morino. Supporting actors included Chris Ovide, Rodney Martin, Neil Rosenbaum, Billy Gill, David Huckins as the poker players and John Rouse as the announcer.

The combined efforts of Mr. Tony Auby and the Choral Department, Miss Miriam Tate and the Drama Department, and Mr. Edgar Webb and the Band made "Fiorello" a great success and one of the highlights of the 1965-66 school year.

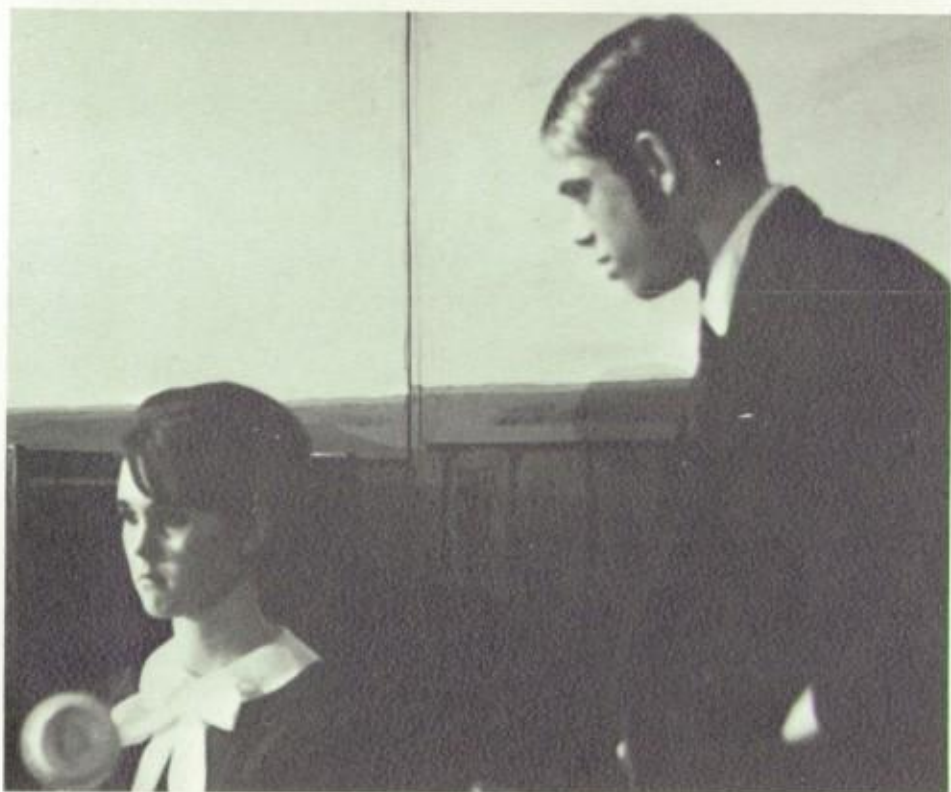

Ron was excellent in his role.

heart highlighted the Spring Concert.

Mr. Underwood, master of ceremonies, announces the 1966 Band Sweetheart, Miss Carole Leigh Jarvis.

Applause burst from the audience as Mr. Underwood crowned the Band Sweetheart, Carole Jarvis, at the Spring Concert held May 2nd at 8 p.m. in the Ferguson auditorium. Carole, escorted by Harvey Perkins, was attended by Donna Nelson, escorted by Mark Gerhardt, and Suzanne Edge, escorted by Ed Polhamus. The title of Band Sweetheart is an honor bestowed upon a Junior or Senior girl in the Mariner Band, whose outstanding work is recognized by other members of the band. In selecting their Sweetheart, the members consider these qualities: leadership, musical ability, dependability, honesty, loyalty, and service to the band.

"Some Enchanted Evening" was the theme for the concert. The event could also be referred to as a "Solo Concert" because each song played by the band was accompanied by a soloist. The three outstanding solos were: "A Touch of Tuba", "Concertino", and "Alto Mood", played respectively by Jim Batterson, Carole Jarvis, and Ed Polhamus.

ORGANIZATIONS

The activities and traditions of Ferguson were centered around its organizations. The clubs promoted interest, knowledge, citizenship, and fun for their members. Several clubs fulfilled many worthwhile service projects and fund-raising activities.

This year was a first for the S. C. A. Board of Co-ordination. This committee co-ordinated all the club projects and meetings.

While creating a pride in Ferguson's student body, the organizations united the interest and spirit of each Mariner.

These included leading academic and extra-curricular activities, aiding in the development of school spirit, and promoting better faculty-student relationships.

Several new projects were developed through the SCA this year. These included a clothes drive, Valentine and Christmas mail boxes, the Board of Co-ordination, and Post Card Day. The annual Stunt Nite and Homecoming festivities were equally successful.

Margaret and the AFS

Margaret Godber

Our foreign exchange student this year was Margaret Godber from Sheffield, England. Margaret lived with her "sister" Carol Amundsen and became a cherished member of the Amundsen family as well as of Ferguson High School.

The students were drawn to her by her outgoing personality and included her in many of their activities. Margaret was an honorary member of the Keyettes and Future Teachers of America. She received her class ring as a gift from the Senior Class and was an honorary Homecoming Princess. She made costumes for the school production, "Fiorello," as well as taking part in school assemblies.

Margaret will always be remembered by Ferguson students as an active and an important part of the school life, and most of all as a loved and treasured friend.

Margaret attended her first pajama party this year.

SPORTS participation

Sportsmanship, character, and strength were developed this year through participation in sports by both the boys and the girls. These athletes practiced long hours to achieve perfection; and as a result, they had a feeling of accomplishment whether they won or lost. Through these accomplishments the various teams felt the real value of success. This feeling of success was boosted by the support of the student body. Ferguson experienced a new school spirit which had not been present in the past, and it was felt no matter where the action took place. Whether on the gridiron, on the basketball court, on the baseball field, or on the hockey field, the participants appreciated the guidance and support of the coaches, the cheerleaders, and the students.

The Mariners began their 1965 campaign with an away game at Norfolk Catholic. The first half proved fruitless for both teams. In the second half, Norfolk Catholic gained a touchdown. Although the Mariners beat the Catholic team in statistics, the final outcome of the game was Norfolk Catholic 6, Ferguson 0.

In our second game of the season, Ferguson beat the heavily favored Crabbers of Hampton by a score of 7-0. After a scoreless first half, Victor Hundley plunged across the goal line in the third quarter to make the only touchdown of the game.

The Mariners played their third game at the home of the Hornets of Deep Creek. In the second half the Hornets gained two touchdowns. Ferguson players Jerry Scharnus and Bobby Farino played key roles in the game. The final score was Deep Creek 13, Ferguson 0.

Our fourth game brought a 12-7 win over the Warriors of Kecoughtan. The Mariners' points came from touchdowns by Jerry Scharnus and Bobby Farino. The key play in the game was a blocked punt by defensive end Jimmy Cocke.

Jerry Scharnus sparkled as the Mariners overcame Suffolk's Red Raiders by a score of 26-0. Scharnus scored three touchdowns in the first half of the game. Sidney Peck put the finishing touch on a perfect evening by making another touchdown in the third quarter.

In Ferguson's game with the Falcons of York, both teams fought to a 0-0 deadlock in the first half. Both teams scored in the second half, making the final score Ferguson 6, York 6.

Kecoughtan was the only team that Henning's hustlers could not overcome during the season. The team's successful season could be attributed to a height advantage, a good deliberate offense, and a 2-3 zone defense.

a year of excitement.

This year the MARINER staff worked diligently to produce a volume of Ferguson history and memories which the student body would enjoy. With the help of the assistant editors, (LEFT) Donna Crenshaw, Susan Tilley, and Pam Alley; the Advisor, the Editor, and the Business Manager were able to coordinate the activities of Staff "A".

The staff year officially began in September with the Underclassmen Picture Day. Class Editors, (ABOVE) Susan Guy, Lola Wentland, Alice Bright, Leslie Tiller, and Frances Ticknor, soon found themselves surrounded by hundreds of Mariner faces which had to be identified and alphabetized.

(BELOW) Organizations Editors, Carol Sanders and Rita Grimstead, discovered that hard work and co-operation with the Academics Editors, Nicki Byrn and Bobby Bridger, better correlated the coverage of the academic and extra-curricular activities of the school.

ADVERTISEMENTS

The advertising files and business folders of every MARINER Staff member opened when school started in the fall. Long hours after school and on weekends were spent enthusiastically approaching previous advertisers and new prospects. Mariners worked diligently with their ad sales because they knew that each ad made the annual bigger, better, and more valuable. As the number of ads increased, so did the student interest in the superior products and courteous service of peninsula business establishments.

The advertisement section of a school yearbook is a link between the school and the community business year. It also represents the establishment of co-operative attitudes between the school and the community.

The annual staff learned a great deal from its opportunity to enter into the advertising phase of the Newport News business world. The business staff greatly appreciated the time and effort put forth by all staff members. This support contributed to the success of the ad section and to the quality of the entire annual.

The Spring play, "The Curious Savage," under the direction of Miss Miriam Tate, was held April 1 and 2. Characters were Susan Luscombe-Mrs. Savage, Ron St. German-Titius, Pam Palmer-Lilly Belle, Meade Mitchell-Samuel, John Rouse-Jeff, Dale Ramsey-Hannibal, Jane Garland-Florence, Susie Finch-Fairy May, Betty Cox-Mrs. Paddy, Phyllis Sawyer-Miss Willie, and David Crosby-Dr. Emmett. This scene is the Savage family visiting the rest home where their mother is staying. They are hoping to learn where she has hidden ten million dollars.

Susan watches enviously as Rita
trys on a Miller & Rhoads coat.
